Updated sections of Price List

Summary:

To improve price transparency, a Code of Conduct for Clearing and Settlement of cash equities was adopted together with other members of the European trading and post-trading industry on November 7, 2006. It defines amongst other topics requirements for price transparency on all layers of the value chain that have to be in place by December 31, 2006. Within Deutsche Börse Group, the trading platforms Xetra and XONTRO (floor trading), the equity CCP operated by Eurex Clearing AG and the settlement and custody business of Clearstream will be subject to these rules.

To a large extent, pricing for clearing cash equities at Eurex Clearing AG is already compliant with the requirements of the Code of Conduct. Nevertheless, some modifications were made to further increase clarity. The changes are highlighted in the attached revised version of the Price List of Eurex Clearing AG and will come into effect on January 1, 2007.

Price List of Eurex Clearing AG: Changes in relation to the Implementation of “Code of Conduct”

As of December 14, 2006, Deutsche Börse Group is providing its customers with an improved overview of prices for the trading, clearing, and settlement of cash equities. Customers will find this information on the website of Deutsche Börse Group (www.deutsche-boerse.com/code)

Background of these measures is the Code of Conduct for Clearing and Settlement of cash equities that Deutsche Börse Group adopted together with other members of the European trading and post-trading industry on November 7, 2006. It defines amongst other topics requirements for price transparency on all layers of the value chain that have to be in place by December 31, 2006. Within Deutsche Börse Group, the trading platforms Xetra and XONTRO (floor trading), the equity CCP operated by Eurex Clearing AG and the settlement and custody business of Clearstream will be subject to these rules.

Price transparency in the Code of Conduct supports the effort of the European Commission to bring forward further integration of European cash equity markets. Improvement of comparability of service providers is one of the most important aspects of this effort. Customers will be able to better anticipate the costs an obtained service will generate and will have the possibility to reconcile their ex-post billing with the published prices more easily than before.

To a large extent, pricing for clearing cash equities at Eurex Clearing AG is already compliant with the requirements of the Code of Conduct. Nevertheless, some modifications were made to further increase clarity:

A new section 2 was added to the Price List containing the fees for the technical connection to Eurex Clearing AG which were so far published exclusively on the Eurex website (under the path www. Eurexchange.com > Technology > Communication Costs) and via circular.

At the same time, connection fees have been decreased reflecting reduced network cost due to lower bandwidth prices.

Additions and changes in wording were made to section 5 to make this section more comprehensive, especially with regard to the positive netting impact on settlement fees.

A revised version of the Price List is attached to this circular and published on the Eurex website. The changes will come into effect on January 1, 2007.
