

Eurex Circular 075/18

Brexit: Support for derivatives trading and clearing

During the last months, Deutsche Börse Group, and in particular Eurex Exchange and Eurex Clearing, has been working with our UK customers to create and implement contingency plans aimed to minimize the risk of market disruptions following the exit of the United Kingdom from the European Union.

As there are only less than six months left until the official departure date on 29 March 2019, the market has increasingly been called upon by regulators to prepare for all possible scenarios resulting from Brexit.

Therefore, we encourage all clients to accelerate their preparations and engage with us on the execution of their transition plans.

For those who have not already, please engage as soon as possible with the Brexit Transition Team on the execution of your transition plans by contacting your Key Account Manager, or sending an e-mail to our Brexit Transition Team at brexit-support@deutsche-boerse.com.
